

NASSAU (NEW)

This is a much simpler version of the old game. The New Nassau is 4 bets in 1 – a front nine match, a 9th hole match, a back nine match and an 18th hole match.

There's no more 'overall' bet, which offers a couple benefits. One, it's not as confusing. Two, everything that happens on the front nine, stays on the front nine, and a lousy start isn't nearly as costly.

Like the Old Nassau, presses can be played, and can be made optional or automatic – it's up to you. Unlike the Old Nassau, and regardless of the standing of the match, or the number of presses, the final hole of each half stands alone as its own bet. The final hole also counts towards the outcome of all other bets – so it carries a significantly elevated importance.

When a bet is pressed, it begins as 'E' in the column of the hole that was just completed.

Here's an example of a $2 New Nassau with auto 2-down presses:

Starsky (an 8 handicap adjusted to 0) wins 4 bets for a total of $8: the Front 9 Press, Back 9, Back 9 Press and the 18th hole.

Hutch (a 13 handicap adjusted to 5) wins 2 bets for a total of $4: the Front 9 and the Pressed Press on the Front 9.

They tied the 9th hole and the Pressed Press on the Back 9.

Ultimately, Hutch hands over $4 at the end of this round.
